

News and Comment
Written by Experts

STAR-BULLETIN SPORTS

Edited By
L. REDINGTON

HARD SLEDDING FOR TRAVELING CHINESE TEAM

Hawaii Players Continue to Win
but Have to Work for
Their Victories

The traveling All-Chinese are winning games right along, according to reports sent back here, but evidently the club isn't quite what it was last year, for easy victories are few and far between. There are some strange names in the block score, and the old combination is more or less broken up. However, the players are at all times loyal boosters for Hawaii, and the islands are reaping full benefit from the trip.

Following is an account of an uphill game won by the Chinese from Kentucky State University:

The Chinese team from Hawaii defeated State University nine at Still Field, yesterday afternoon, by the score of 4 to 2. The Hawaiian lads winning out in the ninth after they had tied the score in the seventh. State's two runs came by hard hitting in one inning, but it was the only round in which they could find Aki with any degree of success. Park pitched a steady game, but slow work in the field behind him caused his downfall, the second game he has lost this year.

Some poor base running cost the visitors at least one run in the very first inning. En Sue led off with a fly to left, which Crum went after and fell down, the ball going for a hit. Reed let the throw to second get through him and the runner took second. Chin banged a single to right, on which En Sue had plenty of time to score, but stopped at third. Foster grounded to Park, and En Sue was run down between third and home, after Chin had stolen second. Chin took third and Foster second on the play. Mark hit to Reed and Foster was out at the plate. Mark stole second but Kan Yen filed to Crum.

After this neither team got a hit until the fifth, when Schrader led off with a corking triple to left. Aaron filed to Pung, but Wright doubled to left, scoring Schrader. Waters popped to Aki and Crum singled to right, scoring Wright. Reed fanned for the third out.

Jim Park led off with a triple to left center in the sixth, but Tuttle filed to Aaron and the runner was out at the plate on Curt Park's slider to Chin.

The Chinese lads tied the score in the seventh. Mark led off with a single through Reed and Kan Yen hit a screamer toward Wright, who fell going after the ball and it went for a home run. Aki hit another to the same place and Wright again fell over his feet, but Crum held the hit to a triple. Aki hit to Reed and was out at first. Aki tried to score on the play at first and was doubled up at the plate. Tuttle to C. Park. Pung filed to Wright.

Waters lost the game for State in the ninth. Foster led off with a grounder to the shortstop, which he fielded cleanly, but misjudged the speed of the runner and held the ball too long and the runner was safe. Mark filed to Schrader and Foster stole second. Kan Yen doubled to right, scoring Foster. Aki filed to Wright and Aki hit one to Waters, which he booted into left field. Kan Yen scoring from second. Pung fanned.

State started a rally in the ninth, which was short-lived. With Aaron out on strikes, Wright walked and Waters singled to right. Aki was yanked and Foster went in to pitch. Wright took too big a lead off second and was extinguished. Foster to Aki. Crum grounded to Aaron.

The game was notable for the proportionate number of long hits, and two plays by the shortstops, both of whom made wonderful catches of Texas leaguers. The score follows:

CHINESE	AB	R	B	H	PO	A	E
En Sue, cf	3	0	1	5	0	0	0
Chin, 2b	4	0	1	0	1	1	1
Foster, rf	4	1	1	0	2	2	0
Mark, c	4	1	1	1	0	0	0
Kan Yen, 3b	4	2	2	1	0	0	0
Ayu, ss	4	0	0	5	3	0	0
Aki, 1b	4	0	0	5	0	0	0
Pung, if	4	0	0	2	0	0	0
Ako, pr	2	0	0	0	0	0	0

Totals	33	4	7	27	7	3	0
KENTUCKY	AB	R	B	H	PO	A	E
Wright, cf	4	1	2	3	0	0	0
Waters, ss	5	0	1	1	1	1	1
Crum, if	4	0	1	1	0	0	0
Reed, 2b	4	0	0	0	3	1	0
J. Park, p	4	0	1	0	3	0	0
Tuttle, 1b	3	0	0	0	9	3	0
C. Park, c	4	0	1	1	0	1	0
Schrader, 3b	4	1	2	2	1	0	0
Aaron, rf	4	0	0	1	0	0	0

Score by innings:
Chinese.....0 0 0 0 2 0 2-4
Kentucky.....0 0 0 2 0 0 0-2
Two-base hits—Wright 2, Kan Yen, Three-base hits—Aki, J. Park, Schrader. Home runs—Kan Yen. First on balls—Off Park 1, off Ako 3. Stolen bases—Chin, Foster, Mark, Aki. Struck out—By Park 3, by Ako 9. Left on bases—Kentucky 10, Chinese 4. Sacrifice hits—En Sue. Double plays—Reed to Tuttle to C. Park. Time—1 hour and 45 minutes. Umpire—Jake.

"BIG JIM" IS CHOSEN FOR AMERICAN TEAM

(By Latest Mail.)
SAN MATEO.—Eastern experts have selected "Big Jim," the horse loaned to Harry Payne Whitney for use in the international polo games, as one of the mounts for the American team. In making the selection they are clear that "Big Jim" is one of the best ponies that has ever been sent to the international games. "Big Jim" is well-known in polo circles. When the San Mateo Polo Club slashers were two years ago and were in dire need of another good pony, Charles W. Clark purchased "Big Jim" from Lieut. Haverkand and hired a special train to bring the pony from Monterey in its for the game. He later presented him to R. M. Tobin. It is said that Clark paid $2500 for "Big Jim." Eastern poloists have offered $10,000 for the pony which has been refused.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD SET BY THE WINNER

(By Latest Mail.)
INDIANAPOLIS.—H. Thomas, driving the French Dela car, won the fourth annual 500-mile on the Indianapolis speedway. All speed records from five 500 miles were broken. The American to finish was Barney Oldfield a Stutz, who crossed the wire in fifth place. Thomas' time was 6h. 45 99-100s. The winner maintained average speed of 22.47 miles per hour. The former record of 6h. 29-400s. was established by Joe Day in a National car in 1912. New record established today was in a large measure due to ideal conditions which prevailed.

Arthur Duray, driver of a French Peugeot, finished second seven minutes after the winner. Guyot, team-mate of Thomas, the third driver to be given the keeled flag, and Jules Goux, winner of the 1913 race, finished in his 1913 Oldfield. Six men were injured of them seriously, during the race. Joe Dawson suffered a collarbone and minor injuries while Marmon car turned over on south turn after trying to dodge wrecks. Both of Ray Gilhooley's Barnes, Dawson's mechanicals hurt and Gilhooley and Nino, his mechanic, also suffered injuries. Jean Chassagne and Mitchell, handling the English beam car, limped away from the line after it rolled over on a turn.

The race was an ag one from the start, and the among the foreign teams made the most exciting finishes this been witnessed at the course.

Georges Boillot, desperate effort to overhaul T. pushed his Peugeot car to such live speed in the 147th lap he went out, when leading the field, of a broken frame.

Duray thrilled spectators by his sensational effort to Thomas in the latter part of contest, and Goux seemed always contender for first place.

Thomas made up at the pits, Duray took and Gup. In the first 100 some drivers stopped on almost lap. The race began to sewn after the 100-mile mark was the average speed increased, as drove the last 100 miles at average of more than 24 miles an hour.

The showing of Duray was a disappointment, that of Tetzlaff, Disbrow, A. Cooper and other stars.

It is estimated 100,000 persons saw the contest. Cheers for Oldfield. Thomas was a hearty cheer when he drew up pits and embraced his men, but during the last 50 miles was shouting for Oldfield and him on to regain the honor lost to France over the course last year.

Thomas' car, 16. Goux carried the same to victory last year. Thomas' first prize of $20,000, and prizes and trophies will his amount to about $40,000. Josef Christy his Excelcion, a Belgian car, sixth; Harry Grant in an Sunbeam machine, was seventh and Rodgers, in the Bullet, an American car, eighth, and William Carlson, in a 1914. E. V. Rickenbacker Duesenberg, an American car tenth, the last of the prize. Haupt, Mulford and Burman's entry, finished the race order named.

Manufacture found that red alder from the coast is a suitable material for pins. Alder makes a wood, spring pin. As a result, a clothes pin factory, said the first on the Pacific coast established at Portland, O.

CONNIE MACK'S GREAT $100,000 INFILDE MAY SOON LOSE SERVICES OF BARRY

1. COLLINS—2. MCINNIS—3. BARRY—4. BAKER

Connie Mack's infield quartet, who he values as a unit at $100,000, may soon be disrupted. Jack Barry, the crack shortstop, has long been troubled with a bad leg and this year has been slower than ever in getting into shape. If the injury proves too stubborn Jack will have to be satisfied with the bench for the remainder of the season. Mack has two clever subs in Kopf and Orr. Kopf especially has the makings of a star and is a better hitter than Barry.

CALIFORNIA VARSITY WILL PLAY ITS FIRST GAME HERE THURSDAY

The University of California baseball team, which is to play a series against local clubs, arrived on the mainland this morning. The initial game will be against the Hawaiians, Thursday afternoon at Athletic Park.

Following is the revised schedule for the California series:

Thursday, June 11—University of California vs. Hawaii.

Saturday, June 13—University of California vs. Astoria.

Sunday, June 14—University of California vs. St. Louis.

Wednesday, June 17—University of California vs. Coast Defense.

Saturday, June 20—University of California vs. P. A. C.

Sunday, June 21—University of California vs. Chinese.

Tuesday, June 23—University of California vs. Punahou.

Thursday, June 25—University of California vs. picked team; benefit for the Leahi Home.

Saturday, June 27—Open date.

Sunday, June 28—Open date.

Anthony Fiala, explorer and member of the Roosevelt expedition, arrived in New York from South America.

The Illinois Central Railroad will build a hospital in Chicago for the use of employees at a cost of $400,000.

Jacob Hellman of New York was arrested, charged with sending threatening letters to Mayor Mitchell.

The Massachusetts legislature rejected the bill imposing a $5 tax on all bachelors over 35 years of age.

These two performances give an idea of the excellence of the Cornell team, but a still better demonstration of the all-round ability of the 40 athletes that Trainer Jack Moakley brought down from Ithaca is shown by the fact that the red and white team scored points in 11 of the 13 events on the program. Pennsylvania scored in 10 events, Michigan and Dartmouth in six, Yale in eight and California in five.

U. C. Makes Good Showing.

Michigan proved unusually strong in the sprints, while California upheld the athletic reputation of the far west with a strong showing in the field events. Th Pacific coast champions might have scored more heavily but for the unfortunate breaking down of E. Stanton, the blue and gold star sprinter in the semi-finals of the 100 yards.

The University of Pennsylvania team which, early in the spring, was a strong favorite for first place, competed under a severe handicap, due to the shutting out of Patterson in the preliminaries, the breaking down of Lippincott previous to the meet, and Ted Meredith's inability to repeat his victory of the 440 in the half mile.

The showing of the Yale team was a distinct disappointment to the followers of the blue, for after victories over both Princeton and Harvard in the dual meets, the Elis were thought to have a chance for third place at least. Dartmouth scored two firsts, three seconds and one fifth.

The half-mile run, which resulted in

CORNELL EASY WINNER OF MEET

(By Latest Mail.)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Represented by one of the best balanced track and field teams that has come out of Ithaca in some years, Cornell won the thirty-ninth annual championship of the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association here the afternoon of Decoration Day, scoring a total of 43 points out of a possible 195.

With the championship went permanent possession of the intercollegiate trophy, the victory giving Cornell the final leg on the silver vase necessary to complete its capture.

Twelve points behind the red and white finished Pennsylvania, with Michigan third with 29½ points, Dartmouth fourth with 23, Yale fifth with 22, California sixth with 18, Harvard seventh with 11, Princeton eighth with 7½, while Columbia, Pennsylvania State, Brown and Johns Hopkins completed the field.

Close to 10,000 spectators watched the athletes from 25 colleges compete under almost perfect weather conditions.

Two new records were established, both in the distance runs. J. S. Hoffmire of Cornell clipped three-fifths of a second off the two-mile record formerly held by P. R. Withington of Harvard, running the distance in 9:23 4-5.

Another Cornell runner, D. C. Caldwell, won the 880 run in 1:53 2-5, thus reducing by two-fifths of a second the time made by John Paul Jones, also of Cornell, at Philadelphia two years ago and equalling the collegiate record made by the famous runner, C. J. Kilpatrick, while a student at Union college years ago.

These two performances give an idea of the excellence of the Cornell team, but a still better demonstration of the all-round ability of the 40 athletes that Trainer Jack Moakley brought down from Ithaca is shown by the fact that the red and white team scored points in 11 of the 13 events on the program. Pennsylvania scored in 10 events, Michigan and Dartmouth in six, Yale in eight and California in five.

U. C. Makes Good Showing.

Michigan proved unusually strong in the sprints, while California upheld the athletic reputation of the far west with a strong showing in the field events. Th Pacific coast champions might have scored more heavily but for the unfortunate breaking down of E. Stanton, the blue and gold star sprinter in the semi-finals of the 100 yards.

The University of Pennsylvania team which, early in the spring, was a strong favorite for first place, competed under a severe handicap, due to the shutting out of Patterson in the preliminaries, the breaking down of Lippincott previous to the meet, and Ted Meredith's inability to repeat his victory of the 440 in the half mile.

The showing of the Yale team was a distinct disappointment to the followers of the blue, for after victories over both Princeton and Harvard in the dual meets, the Elis were thought to have a chance for third place at least. Dartmouth scored two firsts, three seconds and one fifth.

The half-mile run, which resulted in a new record, was one of the most exciting events of the day. Meredith, although he had been forced to top speed to win the 440 but a little over an hour before, set the pace with the Cornell runners from the start. He held his own with the leaders until the final sprint for the cord. In the last drive he was unable to complete the task of winning two races in a day at such speed, and Cartwell flashed across the line six feet in front of G. E. Brown, who collapsed as he staggered into second place a foot ahead of Meredith.

Another Pennsylvania star also fell before the prowess of the Cornell distance runners, when McCurdy, the 1913 champion, and the runner who fought out the last mile with Jackson of the Oxford university, England, relay team at Philadelphia on April 25, was run off his feet by Hoffmire, the winner of the two-mile race.

It was during Miss Bradford's term as president of the Junior Republic League that it gave the "Kermess" at the new Willard, which was one of the most successful amateur performances ever given in Washington and an artistic triumph. Its success was largely due to Miss Bradford's efforts.

At present Miss Bradford has resigned all offices, but is serving on the board of trustees of the Junior Republic. She is handsome and brilliantly educated, and has many friends, both here and all over the country. She has traveled much with her father.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

GOLF GOSSIP

The desire to keep a reckoning of the score is generally most marked in those who have not played the game for long, says the London Times, and this is only natural because they are really improving and not merely as fellows in the last phase, dreaming of a purely imaginary advance owing to the last new "tip." Perhaps it is because the Americans, although they play the game so well, have yet come to it, comparatively speaking, so recently that they have a passionate love for scores apart from official score play.

An American friend lately told the writer a pleasant little story of how some years ago he was sitting in the club house veranda at a small nine-hole course on the hottest of hot days. The solitary figure in the landscape was that of an old gentleman toiling up the length of the long last hole, ever and anon topping his ball and mopping his brow. "Beat my record," triumphantly exclaimed the old gentleman to the story-teller, whom he had never seen before in the whole course of his life, for he had to tell somebody that he had "made" those nine holes in 84 strokes.

There spoke the spirit of enthusiastic progress, and it is the spirit of the golfer who plays on the other side of the Atlantic whatever his degree of skill. We may or may not sympathize with it, but at any rate this should in fairness be added, that the American golfer being frankly, or as we might say shamelessly, keen upon the business of score-counting, sets about it in a more businesslike and a more honest way than does his British counterpart.

He really does, as a rule, hole out the short puts that have no effect on his match—he does not try them with one hand and then assure that the ball would have gone in if he had taken two hands. Whatever the precise value that attaches to a score done in a match, at least a large measure of credibility attaches to his statement of it. It is probably on account of this desire for scoring that the American plays so well in spite of his almost constant playing of four-ball matches.

It is sometimes said, and that by those whose opinion carries weight, that a certain stagnation, if not actual decadence, among the young golfers of Britain is due to their indifference in what one may take the liberty of calling this detestable game. This outburst may be due to personal prejudice, but at least it is hard to deny that the four-ball match as played here tends to a slap-dash and irresponsible type of game. It does not do that, however, as played in America, when each of the four men is intent on "turning in a good card," and so incidentally on carrying his partner around an inert burden on his own broad shoulders. Still less does it tend to lighthearted or careless play when, as is often the case, the aggregate score of each pair of partners is added together in order to decide the fate of the hole. A desire to get round the course in daylight would cause one to hesitate long before recommending this form of game, but it makes the counting of scores a genuine trial and not merely an elegant exercise in mendacity.

It was during Miss Bradford's term as president of the Junior Republic League that it gave the "Kermess" at the new Willard, which was one of the most successful amateur performances ever given in Washington and an artistic triumph. Its success was largely due to Miss Bradford's efforts.

At present Miss Bradford has resigned all offices, but is serving on the board of trustees of the Junior Republic. She is handsome and brilliantly educated, and has many friends, both here and all over the country. She has traveled much with her father.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.

Lieut. Richards is at present attached to the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, Va.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Rear-admiral and Mrs. Royal B. Bradford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose Mary, to Lieut. Clarence Alvin Richards, U. S. N.

Miss Bradford, who is one of the most popular young women in Washington, has been active socially, but has taken an interest in the more serious things. She is one of the leaders in the work of the Junior Republic League, and has served as secretary, treasurer and president of the organization at various times.